

An Evening About Imago

Relationships are not a problem to be solved. They are an adventure to be embraced, a gift to be unwrapped, a mystery to be understood, and a secret to be uncovered. Conflict in a relationship is your friend. It is growth trying to happen. Imago Therapy teaches you how to use that conflict as a way for your relationship to flourish, expand and prosper.

Join Bobbi Newman, Certified Imago Relationship Therapist, for an evening about the opportunity for growth and healing in your relationship. Communicating about difficult issues is hard because we've never learned healthy ways to do it. Imago is that "something different" to help you repair the past, and consciously create your future together.

WHY ATTEND:

- Get a direct experience of turning conflict into connection!
- See if this work makes sense to you as a way to improve the communication in your relationship and in your family!
- This will be an experiential evening. You'll get to see Imago in action!
- Our relationships are always a work in progress. As long as we're learning, we're growing and evolving.
